FRIENDS of the LIBRARY Mary Ellen Braunbach, president of the Friends of Hoag Library spoke to the board of Trustees about the sign project. The Friends are organizing a fundraiser to place an electronic sign in front of the Hoag Library. Other libraries in our region have an electric sign to publicize events and goings on at their library. The total cost of the sign is estimated at $55,000. An electric sign, according to The Friends, is viewed as a best practice. There is a three-year plan for the sign. A rendering and design is complete. The Friends will meet with Kevin Doherty, president of the board of Trustees at Hoag and Betty Sue Miller, director of Hoag, to discuss next steps including approaching the Village of Albion, obtaining a permit. Linda Weller asked for more detail about the sign-size, technology used. Carol Miller voiced concern about fundraising before we receive approval. The Friends insisted fundraising and planning take place simultaneously. In addition, Betty Sue Miller will apply for a construction grant from NIOGA and any award will be placed against the cost of the sign.
